Why should dentists choose a NASDAL accountant?

- NASDAL accountants will have specialist knowledge of dentists' accounting and taxation affairs.
- Members are not only regulated by the ACCA but also operate according to the regulations of the Nasdal charter.
- Members will be able to benchmark your performance with other dentists within your region or nationally, as we have access to a unique financial database for dentists. This provides practitioners with valuable insight as to how their practice fares against other practitioners.
- Provide specialist representation during H M Revenue & Customs.
- Will have an active list of contacts that will assist the dentist with legal matters, practice and personal finance, asset finance and financial advice.
- Members attend bi-annual conferences where the entire day is devoted to matters concerning dentists.
- NASDAL members pool their resources by joint representation to the BDA and H M Revenue & Customs.
- Members routinely publish articles of interest in the dental press.
- Many of the members are vocational trainee lecturers and frequently lecturer at s63 courses.
- The BDA frequently use NASDAL members for an opinion on accounting and tax matters.
- Members can assist with practice development and improve profitability.
- Members have a thorough understanding of the NHS Pension Scheme.
- Tax planning to mitigate tax.
